R&R Billboard ranks Troy Sneed as one of the Top 5 Hottest Gospel Producers of 2008

Few can claim the titles of gospel recording artist, gospel label owner, and hot gospel producer, and although Troy Sneed can boast as being the producer of six of the top singles of the past year, he won't. He does admit to being grateful for the opportunities allotted him through his positions, however, and takes great pride in the anointed gift given him for selecting, mixing, and mastering what he likes to call "real music". This gift has earned Troy the title as one of Billboard's top gospel producers for the second consecutive year and is truly a blessing and a testimony of God's work in an ordinary vessel.
